

Accessible Parking Permit – General Conditions

- The permit may be attached to the vehicle by any method that does not obscure any of the permit details, including QR code, or the vision of the driver when the vehicle is in motion.
- The permit is valid until the end of the date of expiry, unless it is cancelled.
- The permit must not be transferred, reproduced, copied, defaced, altered or destroyed.
- The details on the permit (e.g. permit number, QR code, expiry date, people with disabilities symbol, registration number) must be legible and unaltered.
- The permit may be confiscated by an authorised officer and/or cancelled by council for misuse or breach of any of the Conditions of Use.
- A person is only entitled to one permit.
- The permit must only be displayed when the permit holder is using (parking) the vehicle.
- The permit must be clearly displayed so the expiry date and permit number are visible from the exterior of the vehicle.
- The permit entitles the permit holder to park in a parking bay marked with the International Symbol of Access.
- The permit entitles the permit holder to park for up to twice the maximum allowable time on a length of road, or in an area, to which a permissive parking sign applies.
- When displaying the permit and parked on a length of road, or area, where a fee applies, the fee must be paid according to the duration of the intended stay, up to the maximum amount payable.
- The permit can be used in another State or Territory, in accordance with the relevant local parking rules.

Note: Within CGD, only holders of full ADP (Australian Disability Parking) Permits receive free parking, with one exception: if parked in a carpark with boom gates, they must pay to exit
